Stop Flooding! Add to our Scenic Beauty!

This Saturday, May 5, 2018 will be the Trees for Tributaries Annual Maintenance Event at Otterkill and Taylor Road from 1 to 4 PM.

The Hudson Estuary Trees for Tribs Program helps to protect and restore streamside buffers by planting native trees, shrubs, and grasses. Healthy buffers reduce erosion and flood damage and provide habitat for fish and wildlife. Planting projects take place throughout the Hudson Valley in May and September. Municipalities, environmental organizations, land trusts, watershed groups, schools, and farms participate and volunteer. Now celebrating its 11th year, 7,000 Hudson Estuary Trees for Tribs volunteers have planted 50,000 shrubs, trees, and grasses on 108 acres at 300 streamside sites.
